01 The loom! Thread the loom by tying the silk thread around the stick at one end.

02 Cut an approx. 2 meter long piece of thread and tie it around the end.

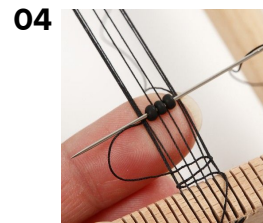

07 Finish the weaving of the bracelet by making small knots onto each individual thread strung on the loom.

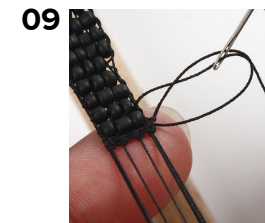

08 Secure the end.

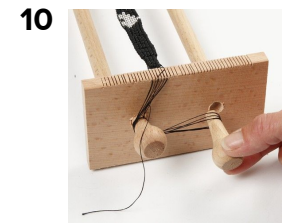

03 Thread beads onto the piece of thread.

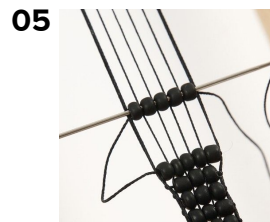

04 Push the beads up between the strung out threads on the loom and sew through the beads from the top.

09 Finish the securing of the end with another couple of knots.

10 Remove the bracelet from the loom.

05 Weave a pattern – use your imagination.

06 You could design a pattern beforehand and draw it onto a piece of paper.

12 Cut open the loops at both ends of the bracelet (i.e. where they have been strung onto the loom).

A Bead Bracelet made on a Bead Loom

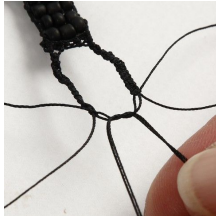

This bracelet is woven on a bead loom with silk thread, rocaille seed beads and metal beads. A crystal button is attached at one end as a fastener.

13

Divide the threads at one end and braid the two sides to make a button hole.

14

Tie the threads together.

15

Secure the ends.

16

At the other end of the bracelet divide the threads and braid to attach the crystal button.

17

Attach the crystal button. Thread the threads through the first braiding and then secure individually.
