A black-painted Fabric Mummy wound with Silk Clay

This mummy is made from a fabric doll which is painted black, and wound with white Silk Clay when dry. The eyes are made from small, white Silk Clay balls. A black waterproof permanent marker is used to draw the pupils.

Paint the doll with black Plus Color craft paint and leave to dry.

Roll Silk Clay into long strips and cover the doll like a mummy with the strips.

Roll two small white Silk Clay balls and push them onto the doll's head. Draw a black pupil on each eye using a waterproof, permanent marker.
