

Natural Eggs with a coloured Pattern made with Tulle

A natural leaf is loosely attached to a duck egg, then wrapped in tulle and dabbed with a mixture of Art Aqua watercolour paint and A-color Allround medium glue lacquer. The contour of the leaf and the tulle pattern is revealed on the egg.

1.

Find a leaf outside, place this onto the egg and wrap the leaf and egg in a piece of tulle. Keep everything in place by tying a piece of string around the egg.

2.

Dab the wrapped egg with a mix of Art Aqua watercolour paint and A-color Allround medium glue lacquer.

3.

Gently remove excess paint with a napkin until the egg is completely dry.

4.

Remove the tulle and the leaf. You may tie a piece of paper string around the egg for decoration.
