

Blackboard-painted Wood for writing on

Two or three coats of blackboard paint are applied to the various wooden items, as a background for text that can be erased and rewritten. They are decorated with buttons and masking tape. The latter is applied for increased durability.

Inspiration: 13855

1.

Apply two or three coats of blackboard paint to both sides of the wooden hanging bird feeding decoration using a foam roller.

2.

Tie two pieces of string onto each button. Trim the ends.

3.

Attach the buttons with the tied-on pieces of string as well as buttons without string using Clear Multi Glue Gel.

4.

Attach masking tape.

5.

Apply varnish to the masking tape for increased durability.

6.

Write text with a Chalk Marker which can be wiped off with a damp cloth and re-written.

Another variant

Another variant